Larkspur Labs Employee Handbook: Code of Conduct

1. Our values

This Code of Conduct applies to everyone who works at or for Larkspur Labs: employees, contractors and interns. Read it in your first week and confirm in PeopleHub that you have read it.

Our four values are: Customers first, Own the outcome, Be straightforward, and Leave it better. We use them in hiring, in performance reviews and when we make hard decisions.

The People team reviews this Code every year. The current version was approved by the leadership team in August 2026.

2. Respect, harassment and discrimination

We do not tolerate harassment, bullying or discrimination of any kind, including on the basis of age, disability, gender identity, marriage, pregnancy, race, religion, sex or sexual orientation.

This applies everywhere work happens: in the office, on video calls, on Slack, at client sites and at company events, including social events after work.

If you experience or see harassment, tell your manager, the People team (people@larkspur.example) or use the confidential Ethics Line described in section 4. Complaints are investigated within 10 working days.

3. Conflicts of interest, gifts and outside work

A conflict of interest is any situation where your personal interests could affect your decisions at work, for example hiring a relative or buying from a supplier owned by a friend. Declare any possible conflict to your manager and the People team in writing.

Gifts and hospitality: you may accept small gifts worth up to £50. Any gift or hospitality worth more than £50 must be recorded in the Gift Register in Notion within 5 working days. Never accept cash or gifts from a supplier during a tender.

Outside work: you may take on a second job or side project if it does not compete with Larkspur Labs, use company time or equipment, or affect your work. Ask your manager for approval in writing first.

4. Raising concerns and disciplinary process

Speak up if you think something is wrong: fraud, a safety risk, a data breach or a breach of this Code. Raise it with your manager, the People team or the Legal team.

Ethics Line: if you prefer to stay anonymous, use the Ethics Line, an independent service run by an outside company. It is open 24 hours a day by phone or web form; the details are pinned in #people-help. Larkspur Labs will never punish anyone for raising a concern in good faith.

Breaches of this Code are handled through the disciplinary process. The steps are an investigation, a disciplinary meeting where you may bring a colleague or union representative, a written outcome within 5 working days, and the right to appeal within 10 working days. Serious breaches, such as theft or violence, can lead to dismissal without notice.
